Welcome

COVID-19 has changed education forever. By the end of March 2020, over 180 countries had closed down their schools, affecting over 87% of learners globally, an unparalleled figure of over 1.5 billion students. Because of devoted teachers with the right edtech tools learning was not cut short. The introduction of edtech help offset negative consequences, especially for primary school learners who are building the foundations for later learning. What's the right role for technology in education? We are motivated to keep asking questions and sharing commentary with you.

Our bi-monthly FUNecole® Newsletter is about building together a growing community of teachers, parents, administrators, entrepreneurs, investors, researchers-you name it, we've got it covered!

Meet the Founder

Chryso Christodoulou is the founder of FUNecole® Research Institute and the co-founder of Digipro® Education LTD. For over 30 years she has been leading the research and development teams of the FUNecole® Research Institute, coordinating European funded projects that include participants from various ministries of education, EU universities, pedagogical institutes and private schools. Chryso is the author of the FUNecole® Step-by-Step educational series translated, into five languages. FUNecole® was recognized by the European Commission and DG in Education as the number one Best Educational Practice in Innovation and Creativity in all 27 EU countries.

We will be participating in the Seal of Alignment lightning talk session for ISTE Live 21! on Sunday 27 June 2021! The International Society for Technology in Education (ISTE) is a nonprofit organization that works with the global education community to accelerate the use of technology to solve tough problems and inspire innovation. Its worldwide network believes in the potential technology holds to transform teaching and learning.

The ISTE conference has been recognized as one of the world's most influential education events. It's where educators and education leaders have gathered to engage in hands-on learning, share best practices and hear from the brightest minds from the world of education and beyond.
